

a severe cold which refuses to yield to treatment. He is being carefully treated by the jail physician.

When court reconvened today, the state began an earnest attempt to eliminate M. J. Mooney, passed for cause by the defense early yesterday. The real issue is one that has cropped out a number of times during the present trial, his nationality and religion. Mooney is a prominent Catholic and Irishman, and the state wants to get rid of him on that account.

All of yesterday afternoon he resisted the fiercest kind of interrogation, insisting he had no opinion whether the Times building was blown up or was destroyed by fire.

He told the state that he didn't know or care anything about the case. Today the state began interrogation along the line of circumstantial evidence, hoping to dislodge him on that ground.

The proceedings are very dull. There are still five seats to fill before peremptories can be again exercised.

FINE MEN FOR VIOLATING TEN-HOUR DAY LAW

The woman's ten-hour day is not a figurehead. It is being enforced—in some cases.

Five men were fined for violating the law yesterday, witnesses testifying they were working their employees more than the legal number of hours. Those fined were: Thomas Johns, manager of the Planters' hotel, 9 North Clark street, $25 and costs each on two charges; Irving Cohn, manager of the Banner millinery store, 824 Milwaukee avenue, $25 and costs; Emil J. Dahmke, manager of the Garden City Creamery company, 9111 Commercial avenue, $25 and costs; J. Prevolos, manager of J. Prevolos & Brothers, restaurant, 1458 West Madison street, $25 and costs; Joseph Jacovides, manager of the Paris restaurant, 1525 West Madison street, $25 and costs.

COMMANDS CHINK REBELS

Li Yuen Hong, commander of revolutionary forces in China and acting president of provisional republic.

He is acknowledged military strategist of China and but for lack of ammunition would have won China for revolutionary party long ago.

Life deals wounds to every man. But upon only the unworthy does it leave scars.